CLERK: Mr. President, on LB 494, there are no E & R amendments but there are amendments offered by Senator Burrows.

SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes Senator Burrows.

SENATOR BUFROWS: Mr. Speaker and members of the Legislature, I discussed this amendment with the introducer and what the amendment does, it broadens further the provisions for registration of voters. It would provide for registration of voters at the primary election, the primary election only. I tried this in the bill, to take in both elections, but I see where it might create some real problems on the general election. However, I feel the vote, the voting records in the primary are enough lighter than the general election that it would probably create a situation that was no more difficult for the county clerks than what they have in the general election. The person...under this amendment, the person would register at the voting place. He could not vote in that election that was held the day he registered but could vote in the next election and it would put a registration system out to reach everyone in the precinct level so that I feel it could pick up substantial registrations across the state and when we set up registration programs, the purpose was to protect the elective system and not to make it difficult for people to vote. I feel this would add a great deal of ease in people getting registered and add considerable to the registrations in the state. I do not want anyone to vote for this amendment that cannot support the bill all the way through. Some of the county clerks will not desire that this bill be passed because it will create more work for them. I think they can handle it with a reasonable ability and I think that the voters and
